A MURDER AT MILL HALL!

Trainmen Find Victim's Body Along Railroad Track.

MAN'S NAME IS CESTRO

An Italian Resident of Mill Hall Was Foully Slain a Quarter of a Mile West of That Place and There is No Clue to Perpetrator.

4TH MURDER IN CLINTON IN 1 YEAR.

Clinton county has had four murders within about a year, the last one occurring last Friday evening when James Cestro, an Italian of good repute, was shot to death along the Bald Eagle Railroad tracks, about a quarter of a mile west of Mill Hall. Three bullets entered his body and were fired at close range, as evidenced by the charred condition of his clothes near where the leaden missiles penetrated.

There is not the slightest clue as to the identity of the perpetrator of the crime, but evidences of a struggle were found where the body lay. A shot was also heard in that vicinity shortly after 7 o'clock by Harry L. Flanigan.

BODY FOUND BY TRAINMAN.

Cestro left his home at Mill Hall after eating his supper and walked up the Bald Eagle railroad tracks. This was the last seen of him alive. About 7:30 a freight crew noticed an object lying alongside the track, and as it appeared to be a man's body the train was stopped and an investigation made. The body of James Cestro was found lying in a pool of blood near the track.

It was at first supposed that he had been struck by a train, but after Dr. A. B. Painter had been summoned three bullet holes were found in the body, one near the heart and the other two in the head.

AN INQUEST HELD.

Coroner Armstrong and Chief of Police Lannen, of Lock Haven, were notified and were soon on the scene. The following jury was empanneled: William Sarleman and Roland Stevenson, Roy Flanigan and William Hunter John Roffe and Lewis Lundy. After a thorough investigation the jury decided that James Cestro came to his death from the bullet wounds fired by some unknown person.

Cestro was thirty-five years old and is survived by a widow and one child.

THE POSTMORTEM.

A postmortem revealed that one ball entered the left breast near the collar bone, another passed through the left eye and came out near the right lip and the other shot entered the top of the head. That a murder of the most dastardly and brutal character was committed has been established beyond peradventure, but as to who committed the deed is shrouded in mystery.

An Experiment.

If you will try, for a few days, to think only pleasant things of all people, and say none but pleasant things about them, you will be surprised at the results in your own heart and life. Your acquaintances, who perhaps were treating you with indifference or suspicion, will become friendly and full of hearty good-will towards you. For there is no profounder truth than the world is what we make it ourselves. Our mental and moral atmosphere is entirely of our own creating. We may breathe the pure, sweet air of loving kindness if we will, or we may inhale the deadly miasma of hate and distrust. Just make the experience I have mentioned, boys; I feel sure that you will lengthen the few days or the week into a happy life time.—Boys' World.

—It is reported that New York is about to issue very stringent regulations as to what is to be regarded as adulteration of food and drinks. In brief, nothing is to profess to be what it is not, and nothing must be added to an article which shall give it an appearance of better quality than it actually possesses. This, of course, would strike a blow at all coloring, however innocuous, and whiskey manufacturers, especially, are said to feel considerable alarm.

THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

Very Little Business of Importance Transacted at the Last Meeting

The borough council met on Monday evening at 7:30 with President Jenkins in the chair and the following members present: Kirk, Fenlon, Seibert, Keichline, Derstine.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. There were no verbal or written communications and nothing of importance was elicted from the report of the committees.

The renting of the old Undine engine house was taken up. Mrs. Toner was agreed to pay rent if council would designate some one to pay the rent to. The fire and police committee was ordered to notify her to pay the rent to Boro Treasurer George R. Meek.

The committee on the Street Railway ordinance reported progress in the matter. They have had several conferences with representatives of the Railway company and the principal points in dispute are the paving the streets, frequency of cars and length of franchise. Committee wanted company to pave their part of street with brick, to run cars at least every half hour and a franchise of not more than thirty years. Traction campany want a 99 year lease. The matter was referred back to the committee for further investigation.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Number of Stamps Issued.

The total number of all known varieties of postage stamps issued by all the governments of the world up to the present time is 19,242. Of this number 205 have been issued in Great Britain and 5,771 in the various British colonies and protectorates, leaving 13,426 for the rest of the world. Dividing the totals of the continents, Europe issued 4,089; Asia, 3,628; Africa, 4,005, America, including the West Indies, 6,095, and Oceanica; 1,425. Salvador has issued more varieties of postage stamps than any other country, the number being 450.

Hemenway to Succeed Fairbanks.

Robert J. Tracewell, controller of the United States treasury, has taken to Indianapolis the resignation of Charles W. Fairbanks as United States Senator, and one of the best official acts of Governor Hanly was to send to the Legislature the resignation. Senator Fairbanks' successor, who will be James A. Hemenway, of Evansville, chairman of the appropriation committee of the national house of representatives, will be elected January 17. Senator Albert J. Beveridge will be re-elected the same day for a second term. Senator Fairbanks' resignation is to take effect at the close of the Fifty-eighth Congress.

Warrants for Back Pay.

Warrants for back pay under the provisions of the judges' salary act of 1903 are being held up at the state treasury and the auditor-general's department has been notified to issue no more until the case is settled. This condition is necessitated by a move on the part of James M. W. Newlin, of Philadelphia, who has taken the matter into the United States circuit court to determine the validity of the recent decision of the state supreme court that the act is constitutional.

Several warrants for back pay have been cashed by the state treasurer, but as soon as the latest development of the case became known, payments were stopped until a final settlement is made.

—The cause of the blue color of the sky has long been a subject of questioning and dispute among scientific authorities, and no general agreement is likely at any time in the near future. Recently, however, the advocates of the chemical theory seem very confident that they are holding the only tenable position, for they maintain that no explanation on the physical basis of layers of air of different density, reflecting and refracting light-rays, accords with known conditions and laws.

GREGG POST INSTALLATION

Officers for 1905 Ushered Into Office.

COMMANDER MUSSER

Is Now at the Head of Gregg Post No. 95 G. A. R.—Splendid Supper Served----Installation and Camp Fire.

DEPT. COMMANDER McNEVIN PRESENT

Saturday evening January 14 was a red letter night in Grand Army circles. It was the occasion of the installation of the officers for 1905 who had recently been elected. The evening's enjoyment started with a splendid chicken and waffle supper from 5:30 to 6:30. It was served by the ladies, wives of Grand Army men, and was partaken of by about sixty old soldiers.

From 7 until 8 o'clock there was a jolly good time socially and the installation exercises commenced.

The installing officer was Department Commander John McNevin of Altoona Pa. The Captain received a cordial reception and he performed the installing exercises without a book, having the ritual by heart. The officers installed were as follows:

Commander—W. H. Musser.

Senior Vice Commander—W. H. Taylor.

Junior Vice Commander—Monroe Armor.

Surgeon—John H. Bryan.

Officer of the Day—John I Curtin.

Quartermaster—H. B. Pontius.

Chaplain—James Harris.

Officer of guard—Chas. Eckenroth.

Representative to Encampment—Emanuel Noll.

Alternate—Amos Garbrick.

Sergeant Major—S. B. Miller.

Quartermaster Sergeant—Chas. Smith.

Adjutant F. Peebles Green was sick and unable to be present to be inducted into office.

A camp fire was held after the Installation Commander Musser acting as chairman. Speeches were made by Capt. McNevin, W. H. Musser, Col. Austin Curtin, Hon. John G. Love, David F. Fortney, Dr. R. W. Alexander, of Lewistown, and Capt. N. A. Caulkins, mustering officer Penns. Division Sons of Veterans.

Mrs. R. V. Thomas, who resides near Pleasant Gap, presented the Post with a beautiful banner, her own handiwork and also recited an original poem.

Members of Posts from Milesburg, Howard and Pine Grove Mills were present.

Death of Miss Mary Fisher.

Miss Mary Fisher, of Unionville, died on Monday morning Jan. 9, after about one week's illness, of pneumonia, aged 53 years She leaves to survive her two brothers and three sisters, to wit: Samuel, of Dungarvin, George and Hannah Weiser, of Loveville; Sarah Kellog, of Pitman, Cal., and Nannie at home. Any attempt to portray the beautiful life of the deceased would be to fail. Suffice to say she was a life long member of the society of Friends, and an earnest and enthusiastic member of the Epworth League, devoting almost her time to the cause of the Master. She fully realized that she was going to die and on Friday a few days prior to her death, she said "this is the happiest day of my life," and her last words were, "Jesus, my Father, lift me up." She bore her sufferings with a resignation and meekness characteristic only of those who have lived a pure christian life. Services were held at the house on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at which Reuben Kister, of Grampian. Rev. Berger, of Petersburg and James Pratt spoke, paying high tribute to the beautiful life of the deceased; she was interred in the Friends' graveyard in Half Moon, on Wednesday. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to the friends, especially to her sister Nannie, with whom she lived and who will most miss her.

—A slight fire occurred at Dr. R. G. Hayes residence on Spring street Monday noon. It caught from a fire in a grate in a sitting room on the second floor. The damage was about fifty dollars.

WHITTIER'S ONLY LOVE.

She Was Maude Muller's Original, Dr. Conwell Says.

An interesting story touching on a romance in the life of the poet, Whittier, was related Thursday morning by Rev. Russell H. Conwell in his sermon at the Baptist Temple, says the Philadelphia Record. Mr. Conwell, in earlier days, knew Whittier and was interested to know why the poet never married. The story of how he sounded Whittier on the delicate subject and how the poet partly confirmed the belief that in "Maud Muller" he had written his own experience, was told by Dr. Conwell as follows:

The past week, out in Iowa, they told me they were sure that they knew where lived the first love of our famous American poet, John Greenleaf Whittier. It awakened a peculiar interest in me, because I knew the good old Poet Whittier and loved him, as his poetry. His home was a dear place to me, and I have often asked the old man, some times banteringly and sometimes seriously, desiring of knowing why he had never married. And I have studied his poetry to find out, and once said to him: "Mr. Whittier, I have gotten your secret." And he said "I think thee has not. I have; it is in "Maud Muller," I said, and the old man smiled, but unwillingly, as a truthful Quaker, to deny it, so I have always felt ever since that I knew something of the secret of that saintly sweet souled old poet's life. But it remained, in these later days, for me to be told what they think is sure and what, in all probability is true. Out in that state there lies unconsciously near to her death a woman now 89 years of age. On the day that Mr. Whittier died she fainted and has never recovered from the paralysis of that shock. She married a Judge and the history of "Maud Muller" gives the whole story now of the household cares, of the difference in society, of that ceaseless longing of the human heart. And they say that when the question came to her parents in Haverhill, where she lived, as to whether she should any longer keep company with this simple Quaker lad who loved the fields and the forests and the brooks more than he did the city or palaces of fame, or select the young lawyer, with great hope of promotion, who would some day they hoped, be leader of affairs, she finally, after weeks and weeks of weeping and self denial until she grew careless and reckless, consented to marry the lawyer. He became a Judge and died, leaving her in poverty with a family to care for, but in these later years they kindly cared for her.

Eternity Is a Long Time.

An evangelist in a little town was trying to give his hearers an idea of the length of time those must suffer, the end of whose journey is the terminus of the Broad Road.

"My brethren," he exhorted, "if a little bird were to dip its beak into the Atlantic Ocean, gather up a drop of water and then hop across the continent—not fly, but hop its way inch by inch until it reached the broad Pacific, and there deposit its little drop of water, walk back and again dip its beak in the Atlantic, and continue this operation until it had emptied the Atlantic into the Pacific, my brethren, it wouldn't be sun-up in Hell."

Some shuddered in their seats at the awful word picture, while others of the more zealous brethren cried aloud, "amen!"

SAD CHAPTER FROM REAL LIFE.

Death of D. Scott Wilson at Altoona, Pa.

A CAREER OF PATHOS

Preacher, Poet and Author Fell a Victim to Drink—A Former Pastor at Pleasant Gap and Milesburg.

KNOWN TO MANY IN OLD CENTRE

The death in the city prison at Altoona Sunday at 8:10 a. m. of W. Scott Wilson was the closing chapter of a sad story.

He died of heart disease, superinduced by alcoholism, following a periodical debauch. He was fifty-one years of age, and a man of remarkable eloquence and pronounced literary ability. He was for a number of years an active minister of the gospel in the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference. He was stationed for some time on the Williamsport circuit and later at Loyalsockville. He was also located at Pleasant Gap and Milesburg.

He was born at Wilmore, Cambria County, April 20, 1854. He married a young woman from Wallis Run, Lycoming county.

About 15 years ago he left the ministry and engaged in the insurance business in which he was also a pronounced success. He followed this for several years, which he relinquished to take up the newspaper business. He was one of the founders of the Weekly and Sunday Blade and Gatling Gun in Altoona, and also at one time was editor of the Altoona Times. His editorial work attracted considerable attention.

At the death of General U. S. Grant, in 1885, Mr. Wilson delivered the eulogy on the departed at a public meeting held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Altoona. It was an eloquent and brilliant oration and one most befitting the departed. His ability as an orator was well known, and he frequently figured in politics, speaking for numerous candidates out for office. It was along in the latter part of the '80's that he met with business reverees, and these coupled with domestic troubles, caused him to begin his downward career, which terminated in a life of dissipation.

Mr. Wilson had a remarkable career for one of his years and few have had the opportunities that had been presented to him to make a name for himself. He was a brilliant, fluent talker, and a man of more than usual intellect, and was regarded as one of the best literary and well read men in this section of the state. He was a most able writer of prose and poems and numerous writings of his found their way into the metropolitan journals and the local papers.

He was united in marriage to Miss Bessie Hoffman, and she with two sons, survive, residing in Philadelphia. He is also survived by one brother, W. R. Wilson of Altoona, and one sister in Petersburg.

Three weeks age he published the following poem, addressed to his wife:

Tonight, my darling, I'm dreaming
Of the halcyon days that are gone,
And the light of fond memories streaming
On the days when our hearts beat as one.

For the sun of my life is fast sinking,
And o'er yon horizon afar,
Where the night from the day fount is drinking,
Gleams portentious my fate's evil star.

Once again in your womanly beauty
I see you as when first I beheld,
Ere lovers allured you from duty,
And the pride of my manhood was felled.

Not much longer I'll carry my burden,
The end of my journey I see.
And the grave shall receive its last guerdon,
And I from my bondage be free.

Perhaps there is somewhere a portal,
Where the earth's hopeless and sorrowing find
A resting place, quiet, immortal,
A home for the wretched consigned.

Where the grim, grinning ghosts of the past,
From the soul are forever debarred,
By no pen of remorse in this glorious last,
The page of the present be marred.

Saturday night, in Altoona, he was mercifully locked up to save him from freezing to death in the streets, and Sunday morning, attacked by heart failure, he passed away.

The funeral services were held at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence of his brother, Henry Wilson, 305 Fifth avenue Altoona and were in charge of Rev. J. K. Lloyd. The remains were taken to Petersburg, Huntingdon county, for interment.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

Will Hold Their Second Annual Session Today.

The second annual session of the Centre County School Directors Association will be held in the Court House at this place today, January 19. There will be three sessions. The morning session will be held at 10:30 o'clock, afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock and evening session at 8 o'clock.

The County Superintendent joins the officers of the Association in making this call for a School Directors' Convention, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly.

The services of Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Schools of Pennsylvania, and Superintendent James M. Coughlin, of Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania's most eminent educators, have been secured for this meeting, and they will be present at each session during the day.

At the evening session the time will be occupied by these scholarly men in the discussion of the most important issues concerning our Public Schools at this time. This will be a rare treat to the people of Centre county and the citizens of Bellefonte.

A special chorus of 30 voices, under the direction of Prof. Philip H. Meyer, assisted by Miss Bessie Dorworth, as pianist, will furnish the music.

Our Young Men's Chrtstian Association.

[Communicated.

MR. EDITOR:

There seem to be some persons in Bellefonte who are not well informed as to the merits and advantages of a Young Men's Christian Association in a town where there are furnaces and other large industries which add very many young men to the numbers in our midst in behalf of whose moral and spiritual welfare we are personally responsible. I have understood that some who consider themselves leading spirits in our leading professions have actually attempted by words and manner to discourage the contractor and others who are interested in the erection of "Association Hall." I refrain in charity from passing any judgment upon such questionable influences, but I would call their attention to a public meeting Jan. 28, in the Young Men's Christian Association hall and other centres in Philadelphia where addresses will be made by Ex-Pres. Grover Cleveland, John Wanamaker, Prof. Garfield, of Princeton University; Francis L. Patton D. D., Pres. Ramsey, of the Wabash Railroad; Major Grant and Pres. McFarlane, of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia; Mr. David McConaughy, Sec. of Ass. in India, and by Mr. G. M. Fisher, national secretary for Japan. I think if many of us could hear the speeches of such distinguished men upon this very important movement, our minds and hearts would be broadened out, our prejudices removed and we would be prepared to do a better work for the betterment of young men around us who are now not reached by our influence.

BOX OFFICE TRICKS.

THE BERTH OF A THEATER TICKET SELLER IS NOT A SINECURE.

To the average theater goer the man who sits behind the wicket in the box office and sells tickets seems to have one of the sinecures of earth. True, he has to answer many fool questions and deal with many fool persons who are often ugly because others with more foresight have picked up early all the good seats. He has to handle diplomatically the woman who wants dollar seats for 75 cents and with the other fellow who wants "first row, center," after the play has begun and that has been sold for a week ahead. But all these things seem but his share of the minor ills of earth. Outside of them apparently his job is what is generally known as a "snap."

But the man in the box office has other things to do besides sell tickets. True, that is where he comes in contact with the general public, and that is all that is usually thought about his duties. But at the same time he is serving the public he is working for two masters behind the scenes, the proprietor of the house and the manager of the attraction, and he must serve them equally, while their interests sometimes conflict sharply. Furthermore, he must serve them as against the public if need there be, and it keeps him hustling to hold his job to do it too.

The man behind the wicket is a good man if he can make you buy a seat that costs you more than you intended to invest to see that particular "show"—all attractions in a playhouse are "shows" in the parlance, be they opera, comedy or vaudeville. Now, most men think they know what they are going to get when they visit a theater, and they especially have the price fixed in their minds. Perhaps, psychologically speaking, they are stronger minded than the house treasurer. Then they do get what they want, and he never questions it. But the average man is not. The treasurer is trained in ticket selling. It is his daily routine, while it is an occasional act on the man's part. Hence he is fortified for the public, and the latter is not for him, and so when the people step up, especially if it is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling seat.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that you want it, for instance, when you go up. In other words, he puts the question as to what priced seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he does it rather apologetically. He has the higher rate tickets in his hand, and if you do not take them he reaches to the rack for the others, and all the time the line is waiting, those back of you are scowling, if not making remarks, and every one within earshot of the window knows that you have refused the higher seats for the lower priced ones. This is embarrassing. Especially is it so if a girl is with you, waiting just outside the rail that separates the mob from the line, and the chances are 10 to 1 that you will take the cue, involuntarily, and pay a quarter more, when you had no intention of doing so when you approached the clever man in the box.

That is one way. It doesn't require any falsehood. It does require a good knowledge of human nature. Some men wouldn't "stand for" that. They would be offended, and it might hurt the house. That is for the treasurer to beware. He must "size up" his customers and act accordingly.

There is a great gain in time in selling without a chart. A man will then step up and ask for a "good seat" about a certain place. Running through his lists, the seller finds him something very near there, and he is satisfied. That one man is finished in a few seconds. It would take minutes if the sheets were there. Time is important when the orchestra is playing and the curtain about to go up.

Still further, the absence of a chart enables the seller to "dress" his house, provided the sale is light, and to keep out "singles" if it is heavy. "Singles" are seats left alone when the adjoining pairs have been selected from a chart. "Singles" are hard to sell because very few persons attend a theater alone. Almost all seats are sold in pairs. A treasurer with a bunch of "singles" on his hands, even with a house threatening to sell out, is "up against it," for often he will lose sales that would have meant capacity but for the fact that he cannot place a couple in adjoining seats, though he may have several odd ones left.

"Dressing" a house is the avoidance of this condition in one sense, but it applies to light houses generally. When a show is not doing well it is up to the box office to make the house look full even though it be only partly solid. He does this by scattering the crowd. Instead of selling a section solid and leaving adjoining sections vacant he sells a few here, a few there, and thus the empty spaces are not concentrated.

Men usually dress a house from the center out. They will sell a good part of the center section, scattering, and then will work out on the left and right. This is because seats on the extreme edge of the house are not so good, and people expect them to be vacant except in a heavy house anyhow and do not notice them so soon. He knows his house like a book, and he knows early in the day whether or not he will have a crowd. Hence he acts accordingly.—Kansas City Journal.

MALE HELP WANTED—Every boy to ask his druggist for CHICLETS.

DEATH OF C. H. STRUBLE.

One of the County's Most Prominent Farmers Dies at His Home Near Pine Grove.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the death angel summoned to the Gloryland, C. H. Struble, one of Ferguson townships oldest and most prominent farmers. His death was due to stomach trouble and occurred at the home of his son, Clayton, west of Pine Grove Mills.

The deceased was born at Zion, Centre county, December 10, 1823 on the old Struble homestead. He was married twice, his first wife being a Miss Swartz of Zion. He leaves three children by this marriage, Andrew, of Tyrone; Calvin, of Zion; and Clayton of Pine Grove Mills. After his first wife's death he married Miss Sara Mitchell of Pine Grove Mills and from this union two children survive, Mary a matron in a Philadelphia hospita and Sallie who makes her home with the former. His second wife passed away several years ago.

He was a prominent farmer and ore operator and was one of the promoters of the Bellefonte and State College railroad. Struble station on the Bellefonte Central railroad was named for Mr. Struble, He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and an honest upright citizen.

The funeral took place Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. E. K. Harnish officiating. Interment in the old Pine Grove cemetery.

Showman Lee Dead.

Canton, Jan. 12,—Charles Lee, the veteran showman, died at his home just east of the borough limits, on Sunday forenoon. For a number of years he had been an invalid, as a result of a partial paralytic stroke. Though he was at times able to come to town, his condition has always been considered serious, He started on the road with a small wagon show, about 20 years ago, and succeeded in catching on to public favor. About 18 years ago, at the close of his season, he drove into Canton and arranged for wintering his show on the fair grounds. That winter he spent in enlarging his show and the following season proving very prosperous he again returned to Canton for the winter. After a time he purchased the A. D. Foss farm and built permanent winter quarters, including a fine ring barn. His show was one of the largest wagon shows on the road. But incessant hard work, summer and winter, told on his strength and he broke down. He disposed of his show and has since resided on his farm.

Mr. Lee had lots of friends in the profession and among the people of Canton as well. He is survived by his wife, who has been an efficient helpmate throughout his career. Several years ago Mr. Lee united with the Presbyterian church.

Miss Alice Roosevelt Wants to go Abroad.

Washington, Jan. 12.—A question interesting Washington younger contingent is whether or no Whitelaw Reid will persuade the president that it is expedient to allow his daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt, to be presented at the Court of St. James in the coming spring.

Mr. Reid has promised to plead the cause of Miss Alice with the president.

Miss Jean, only daughter of the future ambassador, is scarcely less anxious than Miss Roosevelt to be present, and the two girls last summer laid out an attractive program.

So determined was Miss Reid to spend a season in London that her father engaged a fine mansion in Mayfair before he was sure of being Mr. Coate's successor.

Miss Roosevelt, if she goes abroad, will visit nearly all of the sovereigns of Europe and this extensive program has been one of the reasons for the president's hesitancy.

Meeting of the Mermaid Club.

The "Mermaid Club" held their usual meeting Wednesday evening Jan. 11, with Mr. John Myers as host. The topic of the evening was the continued study of the surprisingly interesting life and work of John Donne, metaphysical poet and Divine of the Court of James the first.

The subject chosen for next time will be the analysis of representatives of the so called "Spencerian group" Giles and Phineas Fletcher, William Browne author of "Brittania's Pastorals" and George Withers, first a Royalist afterwards a Parliamentarian.

After a tempting luncheon accompanied by a beverage made of choicest fruit of the earth; the club adjourned to meet in two weeks with the President as host.

Lafayette Lodge Entertains.

About 50 members of Bellefonte lodge, F. and A. M., and a number from Renovo and Jersey Shore, paid a friendly visit Thursday afternoon to Lafayette lodge No. 199, of Lock Haven. The brothers from Bellefonte came down on the Central railroad. A special meeting was held in the lodge room at 4 o'clock and a regular meeting was held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The visiting members were present on a special invitation of Lafayette lodge in return for similar courtesies extended to their brother members in Bellefonte a year ago.—Lock Haven Democrat.

YOUR MORNING DRAM.

Let It Be a Glass of Water and Enjoy an Inside Bath.

Drink a glass of water when you get out of bed in the morning. Never mind the size of the glass. Let the water be cold if you will. Some people prescribe hot water, but that isn't necessary. You may have washed your face already and relished the experience. You may have taken a cold plunge into the tub and delighted in the shock and its reaction. The brisk use of the toothbrush has left your mouth clean and the breath sweet. But you are dirty still.

Drink a glass of cold water and enjoy the sensation of being clean inside. All that is luxurious in the cold bath cleansing the outside is artificial. That which should prompt the glass of water after sleeping is natural.

Drink a glass of cold water in the name of cleanliness. It becomes one of the shortest and easiest of toilet duties. It is swallowed in a second, and in five minutes it has passed from the stomach, taking with it the clogging secretions of the alimentary tracts. It has left behind the stimulus that goes with cold water, and, by filling the arterial system to the normal, it puts a spur to the circulation that has grown sluggish in the night.—Chicago Chronicle.

THE BRIDE'S PORTION.

At One Time It Was Stated In the Wedding Announcement.

It was a common custom in the eighteenth century, especially during the reign of George II., to insert notices of marriage stating the bride's portion in contemporary periodicals and newspapers both in England and Scotland.

Almost every number of the Gentleman's Magazine at that time contained several of these records, of which the following, in 1731, is a specimen: "Married, the Revd. Mr. Roger Waina, of York, about twenty-six year of age, to a Lincolnshire lady, upwards of eighty, with whom he is to have £8,000 in money, £300 per annum, and a coach and four, during life only."

Sometimes the notice merely describes the bride as a lady with a "good portion" or a "genteel fortune." One of the latest notices was in Aris' Birmingham Gazette, July 14, 1800, which recorded the marriage of Mr. Canning, undersecretary of state, to Miss Scott, "with £100,000 fortune."—London Telegraph.

When to Exercise.

When to exercise is an important consideration. If the morning only is available the exercise should be light. Particularly is this the case if one is engaged in any work. The supply of energy must not be drawn from at the beginning of the day. The afternoon is perhaps the best time for exercise, when one has gained strength from the absorption of the morning and noon meals. Those who exercise vigorously at night should eat a midday dinner. Exercise should always precede bathing and not, as a rule, follow it. In this respect the ancient Greeks showed great wisdom. Exercise and bathing they called the two pillars of strength. Exercise was Hercules and bathing Apollo. Both were regarded with equal importance, and neither was complete without the other.

$500 Reward For Women Who Cannot Be Cured.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I used four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mounthope, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. To-day I am cured. A Merry Sled Load.

Wednesday evening a merry crowd of boys and girls from the Midway went for a good time out to Commissioner Miller's at Pleasant Gap. When they reached the mansion of their estimable host lively games were introduced. At the tables were dainties enough to make a king's mouth water. After the feast was over they had some music and more games. About midnight they started home after extending their thanks to Mr. Miller for his hospitable home during the evening.

The party was chaperoned by Miss Sara Waite to whom the boys and girls extend their thanks. They were driven by Geo. Furey. The names of the party are as follows

Alice Lowry, Anna Dawson, Lidie Miller, Mary Wian, Adaline Robb, Mary Smith, Nellie Stevens, Grace Lyons, Grace Steele, Mary Ray, Sallie Barnhart, Verna Stevenson, and Marjorie McGinley. Wm. All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." RAILWAY RATES DISCUSSED!

By Secretary Morton in an Article on the Matter.

HIS EXPERIENCE

At the Outset he Expressly Disclaims Writing as a Representative of the Administration.

HIS DEFINITION OF CHIEF TROUBLE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, and formerly vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, is the author of an article on the railway rate question, which will be published in "Outlook" tomorrow. He in the outset expressly disclaims writing as a representative of President Roosevelt's administration, and says he speaks merely as one with somewhat extensive experience pertinent to an important subject. The secretary in the article says there are very few complaints against railroad rates per se in the United States the chief trouble being with "the relation of rates as between markets." He says there are as many rates that are too low as there are rates which a court would decide to be too high, and that either class of rates may be equally disastrous to communities. He expressed the opinion that federal supervision of railroads is necessary, but adds that regulation and protection should go together.

He says that one of the three things following is sure to take place in the conduct of our railways:

"First—Legislation of pools—the right of the railroads to make enforceable contracts between themselves as to a division of earnings, so they can resist the temptations of big shippers and be assured a fair share of the business moving at stable rates which shall apply alike to all patrons.

"Second—The further unification of ownership thereby delivering in time the entire railway ownership of the country in the hands of a few individuals or one syndicate.

"Third—Goverment ownership, the worst of the three 'evils," if such they may be called. In the opinion of Mr. Morton, government ownership of our railroads would be the designing of industrial and political chaos.

He rather favors the first proposition, with adequate provision to assure rates being reasonable.

As to pending legislation, Mr. Morton favors the continuance of the interstate commerce commission in substantially its present form, saying let it go on making investigations and findings. If it finds a rate is unreasonable (either too high or too low,) everything else being considered, let it order such rates as it deems desirable, and if the railroads do not make them effective within thirty days, then the entire matter be referred to a central court of transportation of, say, three or five members, to be created to especially consider and expedite all questions of interstate commerce so far as the transportation of the company is concerned, it being understood that this central court shall have power to adjudicate in all such cases, except those involving conditional questions, and the findings of this court in interstate matters to be final.

In concluding, Mr. Morton says:

"I would favor an agitation and shaping of public opinion that would not tolerate such a thing as a preferential rate and would make it equally disagreeable to receive it. The president's message on this subject meets the views of all good citizens, whether engaged in railroading or shipping."

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Chriesman, Texas, says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. FRATERNAL VISITATION.

Twenty-Eight Bellefonte Masons Entertained by Lock Haven Lodge.

Friday's Lock Haven Express gives the following account of a visit of Bellefonte Masons to Lafayette Lodge, Lock Haven.

Thursday night was one of pleasure and profit for the Masonic fraternity in this section. By special invitation, in return for courtesies received by the local lodge, a delegation of Bellefonte Masons arrived in this city yesterday afternoon and after spending a most delightful evening returned home on a special train over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. A special meeting of Lafayette lodge, No. 199. F. & A. M. (George O. Salmon, W. M. and John Noble, P. M. secretary,) was held Thursday afternoon in the lodge room, at which there was a large attendance, both of members and visiting brethren. At the regular meeting of the lodge held in the evening Bellefonte lodge, No, 268, together with a large number of visiting brethren from other lodges were present to enjoy the hospitality of Lafayette lodge, No. 199. There was an attendance of at least 150 Masonic brethern.

Two petitions for initiation and membership were receiyed and the Fellowcraft degree was conferred on one candidate by Senior Warden Geo. P. Singer and M. M. degree conferred on one candidate by the Worshipful Master. Four persons were passed to the chair.

The lodge session lasted until 10 o'clock when upon invitation of the Worshipful Master, the guests and members were invited to sit down to the following bill of fare served by Caterer Achenbach:

Cream Tomato Soup.
Celery Wafers Olives
Fried Oysters
Saratoga Chips Bread Sticks
Salted Almonds
Lafayette Punch
Cake Assorted Cakes Nuts
Cigars Coffee

After the good things had been disposed of Col. J. E. Coburn, one of the oldest Master Masons present, was called upon to speak and delivered a very excellent talk. This was followed by a very eloquent speech by P. M., T. C. Hipple, which was listened to with close attention.

W. Harrison Walker, W. M., of Bellefonte lodge was called upon and he expressed the pleasure and delight of the 28 visiting brethren from Bellefonte lodge.

In addition to the brethern from Bellefonte there were delegations from lodges located at Jersey Shore, Lykens, Driftwood, Jersey City, Mechanicsburg, Philadelphia, Williamsport and Boulder, Col.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many A Bellefonte Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Bellefonte readers.

James Hassie, farmer, living at Jersey Shore, Pa., says: "I seemed to be unable to find anything to give me relief from backache. I tried all of our home remedies and consulted physicians; besides to grow weaker and more painful. At length I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of and recommended by Lock Haven people whom I knew, and I made up my mind to try them. I went to Lock Haven and Mr. Mason, the druggist, told me that I could not find any better medicine. I got a box and began using them, and inside of forty-eight hours I felt decided improvement. I was cured in a short time and have never had backache since. That is proof enough for me of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Plenty more proof like this from Bellefonte people. Call at F. Potts Green's drug store and ask what his customers report.

THE PANAMA CANAL REPORT!

FIRST ANNUAL REVIEW OF COMMISSION.

SENT TO CONGRESS

By the President who Also Sent a Brief Message—Letter from the Secretary of War Also Received.

SOME OF THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS.

Washington, Jan. 14.—President Roosevelt in a brief message transmitted to Congress Friday the first annual report of the Panama Canal Commission, with a letter from Secretary Taft relating to the Panama affairs, recommends that he be given greater discretion as he is charged with the responsibility of constructing the canal.

The Board of Canal Commissioners he says, should be reduced to five or preferrably three members, whose duties, powers and salaries should be assigned by the President.

The President's message in part is as follows:

"I concur with the Secretary of War that the present provision of law which the work of building the canal has to be done only through a body of seven members is encumbered and clumsy and I earnestly request that those charged with the responsibility of building the big canal may exercise greater discretion in the organization of the personnel through whom he is to discharge this duty. Actual experience has convinced me that it will be impossible to obtain the necessary, best and most effective service under the limitations prescribed by law.

The general plans for the work must be agreed upon with the aid of the best engineers of the country who should act as an advisory or consulting body. The consulting engineers should not be put on the Commission, which should be used only as an executive instrument for the executive work. The commission should consist of five or preferrably of three members, whose respective duties, powers and salaries should be assigned by the President, and who should be placed under such members as the President desires.

The report of the Canal Commission recites that its first visit to the canal was in April last during the time the work in progress was considered adequate, considering the removal of the great mass of material in the cut.

The French surveys although scientifically conducted were found to be of little value on account of the conditions which has taken place; not the size of the vessels but in the existing conditions and methods of construction.

The report says the development of the final plans for both the deep water channel and the inner harbor at either end of the canal, including about a mile of the canal line, will be concluded within the next two or three months.

The commission says it has been found feasible to use much more of the machinery and plant turned over by the French company than was anticipated at first and much progress already has been made in that direction.

The water works and sewer system of Panama and Colon are described and also the plans to improve these two cities.

As regards the sanitation of the Isthmus the report says that extreme measures have been adopted for the prevention and cure of disease and the Department of Health has been made an administrative department of the Canal zone government.

Additional legislation is needed to provide for taxes on land, international revenue taxes, registration of land titles, court of land titles and a civil code. The investigation of these several matters is now in progress and the commission thinks that the required enactments will be adopted within a reasonable time.

The Virtues of Vin-Te-Na...

Your knowledge of the workings of the "human machine" no doubt makes you aware of the fact that the nervous system is fed and sustained by and through the blood.

When the blood is chargedwith the elements which nature designed, the entire nervous system and all the organs are kept in a healthful state.

Without the force which the nerves absorbfrom the blood, both brain and body are poor machines. Vin-te-na contains just those elements which are wanting in impoverished, poor blood. It was found on both common sense and scientific knowledge. It has conscience and integrity back of it. Vin-te-na is the one medicine that does precisely what it was designed to do, i. e. gives life and nerve-food to the blood. It actually cures every one of those disorders which come from impoverished blood.

Life Came Back in a Hospital Dead Room.

J. Chester Wells, son of Mrs. Wells, of 155 East Jefferson street, Williamsport, had an awful experience at the German hospital at Philadelphia, several days ago.

He had undergone an operation for an absess on the spine. The surgeon who performed the oparation noticed that the patient sank rapidly, and at the conclusion of the operation he pronounced the young man dead.

The body was removed to the dead room, where after a few hours the supposed corpse came too and found himself laid out on a slab ready for preparation for burial. The doctors were in the act of writing a telegram to his mother in Williamsport notifying her of her son's death, when a nurse announced that Wells had revived.

He was immediately removed to a ward, where he is doing favorably.

Lookout For the Grip.

A prominent physician of the state says that the grip is largely prevalent at the present time. He recommends that the stricken keep within doors and indulge in absolute rest.

Banquet of the I. O. O. F. at Spring Mills.

The Spring Mills lodge I. O. O. F. held their annual banquet on Saturday evening Jan. 7, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather was largely attended. The hall was brilliantly illuminated, and every necessary arrangement made to insure comfort and convenience. The tables were beautifully set, and were lavishly furnished with dishes and dainties of a choice and most inviting character.

Robert Finkle with his high-grade phonograph, furnished music and operatic songs during the banquet, which enlivened and added greatly to the entertainment. Immediately following the supper, Professor S. Ward Gramley as toastmaster, in his usual polished and courteous manner, called upon the members and guests for any remarks they would be pleased to make. Frank Musser was the first to respond, then Reverend Bierly, followed Messrs. Meyers, Dr. Braucht, C. F. Long, T. M. Gramley, R. E. Catherman, C. C. Cummings and T. B. Jamison, all of whom delivered short addresses eulogistic of the order, also complimenting the managers on the elegant character of the banquet, and the pleasure and enjoyment derived by being present on this very interesting occasion. At a reasonable hour all retired to their respective homes, expressing themselves as being delightfully entertained.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17th.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate now has under advisement a bill introduced by Senator Gallinger last March providing that after the Fourth of March next the salary of the President of the United States shall be increased from $50,000 to $75,000, of the Vice President, and of the Cabinet Officers from $8,000 to $15,000. of the Speaker of the House from $8,000 to $12,000 and of Senators and Representatives from $5,000 to $8,000. Still more recently a bill was introduced in the House providing for a salary of $100,000 for the president, and also providing that the president, after his retirement from office, should receive $25,000 a year during his life These bills are in no way like the famous salary garb of the seventies when Congress voted itself not only increased salaries but back pay for the Senate recommendation states that the bill is not intended to take effect during the life of the present Congress It is interesting to observe with what unanimity the desire for an increase of the salary of the president is felt. Almost without exception the Senators and Representatives declare themselves to be in favor not alone of an increase but of a permanent income for a retired president. There is a concensus of opinion that the work of the President has vastly increased since the law was passed giving him a salary of fifty thousand dollars a year, and that compared with the compensation paid by other countries to their rulers the sum of $100,000 yearly would not be large. Concerning the amount to be paid after the retirement of a president many congressman are emphatic in saying that it is the business of the country to see that her ex-presidents are provided for in a way that becomes the dignity of the office and the Nation The Democrats in Congress who have been interviewed on the subject are of course less enthusiastic for they have but one ex-president and Grover Cleveland is already a wealthy man, and reflecting that Roosevelt is still a young man and after his term expired would draw a salary for perhaps forty years, their indifference may be understood.

Humane people in Washington are much interested in a bill that has passed the House and is pending in the Senate to prevent the cutting off the fleshy and bony part of the horses' tails—docking as it is called. The operation is really a severing of an extension of the vertebral column and besides causing excrutiating pain it renders the horse defenceless for all time against tormenting flies. It is urged by the societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals that all humane people shall write to their members and Senators urging their support of this bill. It is known as Senate bill 2086 and applies only to the District of Columbia, but it is probable, inasmuch as some states, led by Colorado, have passed such a bill, similar bills will be taken up and passed in different states. There should in fact be an amendment to the bill making it a personal offence to clip horses in the winter season. Electrical shearing machines are in use in many stables and remove the long hair which nature provides all animals in cold weather, and at the season when men and women don extra warm underclothing, furs and overcoats, their horses at the behest of a cruel fad or fashion may be seen in Washington and in other cities naked to the skin in coldest and wettest weather.

Senators and Representatives have been overwhelmed of late by letters, telegrams, long distance phone messages and messengers direct demanding information regarding the probable action of Congress on the railroad freight rate question. The business centres of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and even cities in the far west are thoroughly alarmed by the activity of the "administration congressmen" who are supposed to be at work on a bill which will cripple the railways.

The agitation of the bill during the last week and the talk of an extra session has produced an apprehension in industrial and financial circles, affecting stocks, the writers claim. The answer sent by Congressman have so far been re-assuring and for the most part contain positive information that Congress is not stampeding to legislate on the subject. "The panic stricken applicants for information should remember," said one Congressman who had been rather overwhelmed by correspondence on the subject, that there is a big difference between recommendation and enactment."

Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana, who is the wealthiest man in the Senate, arrived in Washington Thursday from Paris with his twenty-two years old wife. Mrs. Clark was the daughter of a street musician of Butte, Montana, who died leaving a family of seven children penniless. Senator, the plain "W. A." adopted two of the girls and after educating this one, married her about three years ago. The marriage was not announced until a few months ago, because as the brave Senator said, he was afraid of his grown children. Now though the wife and baby are openly acknowledged although the baby remains in Europe with its nurses and governesses. If Washington society accepts Mrs. Clark the Senator will build a fine house on the site of the old Stewart Castle opposite the Leiter mansion, famous as the home of Mary Leiter, now Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy of India. Mrs. Clark is young, pretty, a musician and a linguist. Washington appreciates these qualities and it is probable that she will become a leader in society, which is, by no means as snobbish as it is reputed. If a person is tactful and agreeable he or she will have invitations, and occasionally a woman even without money or distinction becomes an arbiter of fashion, as for example Miss Belle Hagner who was a stenographer under President Cleveland who is now secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt. She is one of the most sought after women in society and dines not only at state dinners at the White House but is a favored guest at the embassies.

—There is only one boy in Wilkinsburg now and he belongs to Harry E. Beck and Mrs. Jean (McKee) his wife. They say the boy gained one pound in eleven days (wonderful) and they now think of getting him a pair of gum boots and a coaster to put in his time, in fact they have both come to the conclusion to keep him, but the great question now is, what shall we call or name him.

Why Some Folks Go to Europe.

When New York society doesn't know what else to do it goes abroad. An ambitious woman gets wind of some rival's intended function. Not to be invited or not to be seen among the guests means a slight easily endured if the world be not cognizant of the fact, but intolerant if it is; therefore the ambitious woman sails away to Europe. She may not be gone six weeks, but her absence is thus to be accounted for. In other cases it is known that society takes this absent treatment to cure heart troubles, to escape social obligations that weigh too heavily on the income or, again, from sheer ennui it departs. This restlessness of certain sets in society would be dangerous were it not for the safety valve which that really overworked Atlantic ocean has become of late years. When all else fails, go to Europe.—Boston Herald.

The Beautiful.

Beauty prevails in spite of all we do. We may build ugly buildings, we may think ugly thoughts, we may wrinkle ourselves in worries or the contemplation of ugliness, we may even worship ugliness under the name of utility, but lightly, without an effort, the gentle hand of beauty descends upon all. Beauty may do her subtle work in many ways. Sun, moon, fog and rain are alike her servants. The fresh red houses, garish eyesores in the sun, become wonderful as they loom blood red before the man in the mist, or in a few years the red is quieted, and the searching light only makes it more beautiful.—Arthur Ransome.

Philadelphia Dog Show Opens.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The annual exhibition of the Philadelphia Dog Show opened in Horticultural hall with the largest number of dogs ever shown by the association. There are about 1000 dogs entered for the various prizes offered. Among the many prominent out-of-town exhibitors are: J. Pierpont Morgan, William Rockefeller, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Thomas W. Lawson. Though there are few foreign dogs shown, the exhibit takes on an international cast by reason of the prizes offered by many foreign kennel clubs. The show will last four days.

All Traveling On Sleighs.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 21.—For over a week all traveling in Jackson and Thompson townships, of Susquehanna county, Pa., has been on sleighs, and in many places it was necessary to shovel through drifts four and five feet deep to make the roads passable. The farmers and lumbermen are taking advantage of the early snow to get logs to the mills on sleds.

Doing One's Duty.

Let us do our duty in our shop or our kitchen, the market, the street, the office, the school, the home, just as faithfully as if we stood in the front rank of some great battle and we knew that victory for mankind depended on our bravery, strength and skill. When we do that the humblest of us will be serving in that great army which achieves the welfare of the world.—Theodore Parker.

Handy to Have Around.

"You don't mind my leaving so many of these bills, do you?" said the collector, with a touch of sarcasm.

"No, indeed," replied the woman in the door. "We rather like it. The children do their examples on the backs of them."

A Conversion.

A country circus advertised that "at 12 o'clock the cannibals will be fed." A large crowd assembled, but to everybody's disappointment the savages ate potatoes. In reply to some indignant questions the manager said: "But, gentlemen, don't you see that their diet is evidence of my skill? I have converted them into vegetarians."—Fliegende Blatter.

A North Bend Woman Speaks Her Own Mind.

North Bend was thrown into a state of excitement several evenings ago by the news that the proprietors of one of the hotels had been held up by two women. On inquiry it developed that the husband of one of the women had been imbibing too freely at this particular hotel. The wife was advised by friends to have a notice served on the proprietor to discontinue selling intoxicating liquor to her husband. This she declined to do, saying that she would serve her own notice. Accordingly on the night in question she, in company with another woman, went to the hotel, entered the bar room, whipped out a big revolver and shoved it under the nose of the proprietor and told him not to move or speak or she would blow his brains out. He held still. The other occupants of the room suddenly felt called upon to go home at once, one old loafer being in such haste that he would have gone out by way of the window if it had not been barred. Meanwhile, the woman with the revolver expressed her mind to the proprietor in language that would not look well in print and he took it all very quietly. He had to. Another hotel man heard of the occurrence and went to tease him about it, boasting what he would have done under like circumstances. Had he been aware of what had been in store for him he would have kept quiet for while on his way back to his hotel he was help up by a little woman who had no revolver and received a delicious morsel of what was weighing most heavily on her mind in language that could be heard all over the town. He took it all in without a word and doesn't boast any more of what he would have done had he been in the other fellow's place.

These North Bend women have lots of spunk and know how to handle naughty hotel proprietors.

When Rags Were Royal Raiment.

One afternoon about a year ago, the well known author and writer of plays, Mr. Chas. A. Taylor, was taking his usual afternoon walk on Broadway, New York, he happened on a little ragged newsboy who was making, what proved to be an almost successful, attempt to chastise a well groomed man of thirty, A policeman who ended the fracas questioned the lad as to his motive for the attack and pointing to a rather pretty though poorly clad girl of about sixteen replied.—"He insulted my sister, and no man can do that and get away wid it, see?"

The situation so impressed Mr. Taylor that he used it as a theme for his new play "From Rags to Riches."

This production with its full scenic equipment, and a more than ordinary company of players, will make its bow to the patrons of Garman's Opera House on Wednesday evening Jan. 25th.

The play is full of dramatic situations including the one just described, starting climaxes tells a wonderfully interesting heart story, and is replete with sparkling comedy and bright specialties.

Manager Max H. Meyers has spared no pains in making "From Rags to Riches" the most complete melodrama before the public.

Shall We Lower the Bars?

If any man love the world the love of the Father is not in him.—1. JOHN 2: 15.

Shall we lower the bars, and let them in?
The whirling dance, with its oft-time sin;
Could we seek our Lord to join us there,
Do you think he in the dance would share?

The card, with its fascinating charm,
Luring its victims on to harm;
Leading so oft to the gambling den—
That trap of death to unwary men?

And the play-house, with its brazen glare—
Should we find our 'Father's business' there?
Would our Master join the giddy throng,
With its vulgar jest, and its ribald song?

Would it speed the coming of our king,
Into the Church the world to bring?
For the Church He suffered, bled and died;
And He by the world was crucified.

The Church is His temple, so He said—
Should she drop the bars the world to wed?
"Unequally yoked" they would surely be,
For the Church and the world cannot agree.

Nay, nay! We most never yield our stand,
Nor give to the world a welcome hand—
"Dead unto sin," "in newness of life,"
We must shun the paths where sin is rife.

'Tis Satan's device to bring them in,
To lure the weak into ways of sin;
And with glowing tints he paints his lair—
Beware, O Christian! Beware! Beware!

The "road" for the Church of Christ is strait,
But ever leadeth to heaven's gate;
And pleasures the sweetest there abound;
No joys like these in the world are found.
Shall we lower the bars?

ISHLER—RAMSEY.

Pretty Nuptial Event That Transpired at Pleasant Gap on Thursday.

Thursday at Pleasant Gap a very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents when Miss Mary R. Ramsey became the wife of Mr. Harry E. Ishler.

Shortly after twelve o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Miss Mabel Ishler. Rev. J. T. Stonecypher, of Boalsburg, conducted the service which made the happy couple man and wife. Rev. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, also assisted.

Miss Emma Ishler was bridesmaid and Mr. Jacob Stam groomsman.

The bride is a very pretty and accomplished young lady well fitted to grace the home of her chosen husband. She received many handsome and useful presents.

The groom is a sober, industrious young man, who has been working on his father's farm near Bellefonte and is to be congratulated on receiving such a fine wife.

Congratulations followed the ceremony and then the company adjourned to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

Of the sixty guests those out-of-town were: Rev. and Mrs. Stonecypher, of Boalsburg; Rev. and Mrs. Schuyler, Mrs. Ross, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Rearick, Dr. and Mrs. Allison, of Centre Hall.

We all join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ishler many happy and prosperous years together.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baldwin announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Brinton, to William Hicks Walker which happy event occurred January 16, 1905 at Wilmington, Delaware. After February 1st. they will be at home at Chadd's Ford, Pa. Mr. Walker is a brother of John S. Walker, of this place, and resided here for a year or two where he has many friends.

Vagaries of Spelling.

The vagaries of English spelling are well illustrated in the following extract. The words sound properly, but the spelling does not correspond to the meaning required. It would make a good exercise in spelling to re-write the extract in its proper form:

Know won kneads weight two bee tolled thee weigh too dew sew.

A rite suite little buoy, the sun of a grate kernel, with a rough around his neck, flue of the rode as quick as a dear. After a thyme he stopped at a blew house and wrung the belle. His tow hurt hymn and he kneaded wrest. He was two tired to raze his fare, pail face. A feint mown rows from his lips.

The made who herd the belle was about two pair a pare, but she through it down and ran with awl her mite, for fear her guessed wood knot weight; But when she saw the little won, tiers stood in her eyes at the site

"Ewe poor dear! Why dew yew lye hear? Are you dyeing?"

"Know," he said, "I am feint."

She bore hymn in her arms, and hurried two a rheum where he mite bee quiet, gave him bred and meet, held a cent bottle un er his knows, untied his neck scarf, rapped hymn up warm, and gave hymn a suite drachm.

Will Calling for Female Funeral.

Feeling that her hermit life of many years is drawing rapidly to a close, Miss Sarah Jackson living in the St. Leon district, Dearborn county, Ind., has made her will. Among outher provisions is that no man shall have anything to do with her funeral. Miss Jackson has lived for many years on a little piece of land which barely supported her and an aged servant, but no communication has ever been held by her with a man, the servant dealing with all the bucksters who came to buy the poultry and eggs and other things she had for sale.

The will, which was drawn for her by a woman friend, provided that the driver fo the hearse shall be a woman, the pall bearers shall be women, and the persons who dig and fill the grave after the coffin has been lowered also shall be women.

This will, it is said, is the result of an aversion to men grown out fo the fact that she was disappointed in love more than forty years ago. She is almost 70 years old and has lived in Dearborn county since girlhood. The will sets apart money to defray the expenses and leaves the land to her faithful servant.

Governor Would put Tax on Coal.

Of Governor Pennypacker's proposition to tax coal, the Philadelphia Press says: The governor's proposition for a tonnage tax on coal is not a new one. It was advanced two years ago and quite seriously considered by some of the legislative influences at the time, but did not finally meet with favor.

Unless that sentiment has considerably changed it is possible this recommendation of the executive will go the way of those concerning apportionment and personal registration. If a tax could be placed on coal that would be paid by the coal mining corporations there are many chances that it would be done without any hesitation. Any tax on coal, however, would be at once added to the price of that commodity in the market and would have to be paid by the consumer. This may be said of almost all taxation, but there is none levied for s ate purposes so directly felt by so many as would be a coal tax.

PORT MATILDA.

The protracted meetings, held in the M. E. church and in the U. B. church at Black Oak, are still in progress. The meetings are all well attended by people from both far and near. There is fine sledding here now and people from the country and neighboring yicinity come in sled loads.

Ex-Sheriff Daniel Woodring, of Bellefonte, visited his sick sister, Mrs Nancy Woodring, who lives near this place, on Monday of last week.

A sled load of young folks from this place attended the revival meeting at Black Oak on Tuesday night of last week. There was also another sled load of young people from here who drove to the meeting at Black Oak on Sunday eve. They, of course, thought the farthest way around would be the shortest way home, as has often been said, so they went around by Flatrock and while coming down through Reese Hollow there was a great crash and after they were aroused (No they were sleeping yet) they found that the front part of the sled was broken. They went to a nearby farm house and borrowed an old part of a sled to come home on. Picture them coming into town on such a moonlight night on two sleds, one on top of the other.

There was a surprise party at the home of E. H. Free, of this place, last Saturday night. There were about fifty guests present. After the amusements came a luncheon then Mr. Free's orchestra rendered a few selections after which the guests retired to their several homes.

Two couples came from Tyrone in sleighs to this place on last Monday night at a late hour. They stopped at the hotel here and asked if they could get supper for the four of them. Our accommodating landlady, who is always ready and willing to receive decent and respectable persons, turned them out and wouldn't get supper for them, as she saw it was very difficult for the men to walk; the girls did not venture out of the sleighs. Although they were well received by the boys here who are always ready to have some fun and surely got their share of fun out of those couples. After racing around awhile and having what they thought was a good time they started on their way homeward rejoicing.

PLEASANT GAP.

Plenty of wind and bad weather.

Sledding parties are all the go. Tuesday night of last week a party of young people went to Lemont from here. Miller's on the hill entertained a party from Bellefonte and Saturday night a sled load of school boys and girls were to Bellefonte.

Dr. John Bilger is very sick at the present.

Monday the 9th was Miss Freda Weaver's birthday and a lot of her young friends surprised her by all coming in together and wishing her a happy birthday.

The serenade at the Ishler-Ramsey wedding was something new and novel, and the boys are to be congratulated on their work.

William Hoover and family entertained a party of relatives from Greenwood Furnace.

Those from Centre Hall who attended the Ishler-Ramsey wedding were: Rev. Schuyler and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Rearick, Mr. and Miss Rearick and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Noll, of Zion.

Miss Lizzie Miller spent several days at State College this week.

Harry Bilger is putting up a smoke stack near Scotia this week.

MADISONBURG

T. F. Wolf and family spent Saturday with Millheim friends.

H. H. Noll, wife and two sons, from Hublersburg, were the guests of the former's parents, W. C. Noll's, over Sunday.

Chas. Brown and two boys, from Wolfe's Store, spent Sunday at the home of Israel Wolfe.

D. C. Carvis, from Mill Hall, was the guest of his parents, Philip Carvis, on Sunday

After a week's visit with friends in Union Co., Mrs. Jacob Long returned home on Saturday.

Dr. Holloway Resigns.

On Sunday morning after preaching his usual good sermon, Dr. Holloway announced to his congregation that this was his last sermon as he was about to retire from the active ministry. The action was so sudden and entirely unexpected that the people were dumbfounded, and when they realized what the Dr. had said there were many demonstrations of sorrow and regret. Dr. Holloway has been contemplating resigning for the past two years, but at the earnest request of his congregation, he has continued, but he had decided to retire in March.

Dr. Holloway has been in the ministry forty two years, seven of which he has spent in Bellefonte, as pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church. When he came here the church had a large debt upon it, which has since been removed with the exception of about seventeen hundred dollars, and he has otherwise benefitted the church. As a minister he stands among the foremost in town. He will continue to reside in Bellefonte and continue in the pursuit of Theological and literary work.

CENTRAL

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

LOCK HAVEN, - - - - PENN'A.
J. R. FLICKINGER, Prin.

Fall term 15 weeks begins September 5th 1904.

Last year was the most successful in the history of this important school—about 700 students. Location among the mountains of central Pennsylvania, with fine water, splendid buildings and excellent sanitary conditions make it an ideal training school. In addition to its Normal course it also has an excellent College Preparatory Department in charge of an honor graduate of Princeton. It also has departments in Music, Elocution and Business. It has a well educated Faculty, fine Gymnasium and Athletic Field.

KITCHEN HELPS.

Table oilcloths or the linoleum on the kitchen floor can be kept cleaner with oil than with soap and water.

Wash your dishcloths and tea towels in a strong suds. Nothing else seems to cut the grease so quickly and leaves them nice and clean.

All saucepans and kettles should be turned upside down when not in use. Let the saucepan project a little over the edge of its shelf to admit air.

Copper boilers may be cleaned with oxalic acid or salt and vinegar, following this with a cloth dipped in kerosene, then with a dry cloth. A bit of lemon will do the same work.

Keep a wire dishcloth to set in the bottom of a kettle while cooking anything that may stick and burn. It will adapt itself to the shape of a kettle better than a trivet or a pail lid. Of course it must be kept for the purpose exclusively.

Pin Money.

A woman I know is making pin money every year out of grocers' left overs. Every time she visited the corner grocery she noticed good fruit and vegetables spoiling, and as a result of some diligent thinking she made him a proposition. It was that he would allow her to take all vegetables and fruits that were not fresh enough to bring the best prices and preserve or pickle them on shares. The grocer was to dispose of them in the store. He was very willing to do this, as many of his customers had expressed a wish that it was possible to get homemade preserves and pickles in the stores, so they sell well. At present she has left overs from six grocers. Last year her net profits were $500.—Good Housekeeping.

A Sweet Joke.

An American army officer who was in Cuba during the Spanish war was extremely dissatisfied with the cooking. He insisted that the Cubans put sugar into everything they cooked. At last he announced that he would eat nothing but boiled eggs. "They can't sugar them," he declared. So he ordered them next morning. But before he appeared at the table another officer had filled the salt cruet with sugar. When the "kicker" appeared, his eggs were brought to him. He opened them with a gloomy complacency and sprinkled over them plenty of the doctored salt. At the first mouthful he turned purple. "Sugared! Sugared!" he exclaimed and rushed from the table.

Politics and Humor.

In the world of politics the man who would obtain political preferment must be serious. No man who cultivates humor to the exclusion of his other gifts can hope to attain to the highest places in the political arena. The American citizen reserves the inalienable right to vote for whom he wills, and the serious man who suppresses his sense of humor rather than the man who cultivates it is honored with his preference. —Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

Superfluous Details.

A Vast Fortune Is Not Riches.

To be engulfed in one's occupation, swallowed up in a complicated life, harassed by the striving and straining, the worry and anxiety which accompany a vast fortune, is not to be rich. Time and opportunity and inclination to help others are the most valuable things in the world, and if you cannot seize these, if you cannot utilize them to your own enlargement, your own betterment, you are poor indeed although you have millions in the bank. —Success.

The Selfish Man.

A bachelor one day set the table in his lonely abode with plates for himself and an imaginary wife and five children. He then sat down to dine, and as he helped himself to food he put the same quantity on each of the other plates and surveyed the prospect, at the same time computing the cost. He is still a bachelor.

The Game of Life.

Life is a queer game of blind man's buff, played in a mist on a mountain top, and the players keep dropping over the precipices. But nobody heeds because there are always plenty more, and the game goes on forever.—H. Rider Haggard.

When a Kick Helps.

When one lacks the courage boldly to advance along the perilous course his intelligence counsels, he is lucky if he can and will goad some one into kicking him along it past the point where retreat is impossible.—Success.

Love.

George—Are you quite sure that you really love me? Bessie—Oh, yes; certain of it. I never knew any one that could make me so furiously angry at times!—Exchange.

Even Then.

Think twice before you speak, and even then nine times out of ten the world won't lose anything if you keep still.—Somerville Journal.

The Saving Light.

We boast our light; but, if we look not wisely on the sun itself, it smites us into darkness. The light which we have gained was given us not to be ever staring on, but by it to discover onward things now remote from all knowledge.—Milton.

Force of Habit.

Miss Antique—Why have you always remained single? Oldbach—[illegible] from force of habit. I suppose [illegible] know—you know I was born [illegible] —Philadelphia Record.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

Charged With the Murder of James Sesto at Mill Hall.

Frank Dominick, aged about 30 or 35 years, was arrested Monday afternoon charged with the murder of James Sesto at Mill Hall Friday night. The motive for the murder is said to have been jealousy and the evidence is purely circumstantial.

Several peculiar incidents occurred at the funeral of the murdered man on Monday which aroused the suspicions of his superstitious countrymen and they called upon Chief Lannen of the Lock Haven police and urged Dominicks arrest.

As the casket was being carried out of the church a small cross dropped from the altar to the floor. This was followed a few seconds later by one of the iron pillars supporting the gallery toppling over, said to be caused by the pall bearer brushing against it. As the casket was being lowered into the grave one of the straps wound around the limbs of a pall bearer and almost pulled him into the grave on top of the coffin. That pall bearers was Frank Dominick, who, it is stated, insisted upon being one of the pall bearers.

The Mary Ann Johnson Concert Company.

The Mary Ann Johnson Concert company will give one of their delightful old fashioned concerts in the Presbyterian Chapel on Friday evening January 20 commencing at 8 o'clock.

The proceeds of the entertainment are for the Presbyterian church and Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson and her committee of ten are getting it up. All the old time melodies which delight the hearts of all and recall tender memories to our older people will be sung. There will be other attractive features and in addition candies of all kinds will be offered for sale in the parlors adjoining.

The admission is 25 cents and everyone should attend.

—Snyder Tate, the ice man, had a runaway accident Monday noon. Just as he was driving past the Collins row near the old glass works site, a dog ran out and frightened his horses so that they ran away. Going around the corner just at the road that leads up to the Bellefonte Furnace the sled upset and Mr. Tate was thrown out cutting a deep gash in his head and bruising him somewhat about the body. He has been confined to his home since but is getting along nicely and will soon be out again.

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer.

Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of the New-York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them asiyet. Yours very truly,

CHARLES S. BODMAN.

Gouverneur, N. Y., Nov. 29; 1904.

Through a special agreement with THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE FARMER we will send it with the Republican both papers, one year, for $1.00. Send your name and address to the Republican, Bellefonte, Pa.

Grow in Your Work

You may be very sure that, if you do not feel yourself in work and your life broadening and deepening, if your task is not a perpetual tonic to you, you have not found your place. If your work is drudgery to you, if you are always longing for the lunch hour or the closing hour to release you from the work that bores you, you may be sure you have not found your niche. Unless you go to your task with greater delight than you leave it, it belongs to some other man.—Success.

—The people here have not been over diligent in remembering their pastors at the Christmas time. But this year they hustled around and secured a fund with which they purchased a nice sleigh of Ferguson Bros. and had it delivered just before Christmas to Pastor Faus. He was wholly taken by surprise and asked me to thank the donors for him in strongest superlatives. He would have me specially to mention the solicitors Allen Hile and Fred Hile. Mrs. Faus also voiced the above sentiments for she received in cash what was left over from the purchase of the sleigh.—Clearfield Monitor.

The End of the Way.

My life is a wearisome journey
And I am sick with the dust and the heat,
The rays of the sun beat upon me
The briars are wounding my feet.
To the city to which I am going,
But the toils of the road will be nothing
Will more than my trials repay
When I get to the end of the way.

There are hills and valleys to traverse
I am weary and longing for rest
But He who orders my pathway
Knows what is needed and best,
He speaks in His word and has promised
That my strength shall be as my day,
Then the toils of the road will be nothing
When I get to the end of the way.

He loves me too well to forsake me
He walks by my side day and night,
He is able to keep me from falling,
Though weak, I am strong in His might.
Then when I get home to Heaven
I'll praise Him forever and ever
For the toils of the road will seem nothing
When I reach the end of the way.

For now I am foot sore and weary,
I shall rest when safely at home,
I know I'll receive a glad welcome
For the Savior himself has said come,
So when I am weary in body
And sinking in spirit I say
All the toils of the road will be nothing
When I get to the end of the way.

When the last feeble step has been taken
And the gates of the city appear,
Then the melodious songs of the Angels
Will waft out to my listening ear
Then all that now seems mysterious
Will be plain and clear as the day,
Then the toils of the road will be nothing
For I have reached the end of the way.

Speedy Relief.

A salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cools and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. A sure cure for piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold by Green's pharmacy.

A Narrow Escape.

Wednesday night Jan. 4th, after midnight, a house about one mile west of Zion, occupied by Mrs. Gertie Lutz as tenant, made a close escape from being burned. Mrs. Lutz during the night was aroused from her sleep by the presence of smoke in her bed room on the second floor, and to her surprise found that there was fire in the floor under her bed and that her bed had also taken fire. She at once alarmed near neighbors Mr. Royer's, and with the prompt assistance of these the fire was put out, Mrs. Lutz having had the presence of mind to keep all doors closed to prevent a draft feeding the flames. The fire had already burned a considerable space out of the floor, and ruined the bed in which she had been sleeping, besides her clothing and carpets, in the room, and other articles in the room adjoining damaged. Her loss may be something like $75 insured in the Farmer's Mutual of Centre Co. The house made a very narrow escape, and is insured in the Annville company; the damage to the house may be about $150, and was owned by Hiram Lutz. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"Dewitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve," writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala., "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally, I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Hazel Salve cures without a scar. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Charles Waite died at his home at Ironville about one o'clock Thursday afternoon of pneumonia, from which he had suffered about two weeks. He was a native of Ironville, and was 29 years old. Waite, also survives, as do these brothers and sisters: Thomas, Harry, Grant, Calvin, Walter and Viola Waite, all of Ironville, and Mrs. Dessie Cox, of Howard.

State May Build Armories.

A meeting of officials of the National Guard of Pennsylvania was held at Harrisburg Wednesday to prepare a bill for the erection of armories throughout the state for presentation to the present legislature. Adjutant General Stewart favors the proposition, and in his forthcoming annual report he will affirm the suggestion of the committees appointed. The report will also say that while the state was liberal in its maintenance of the garb, yet it has failed to provide proper armory facilities for the troops and has done nothing along this line beyond giving an annual allowance of $200 per company for armory rent purposes.

Coughs and Colds.

All coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints that are curable are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. Clears the phlegm, draws out inflammation and heals and soothes the affected parts, strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia. Harmless and pleasant to take. Sold by Green's pharmacy.

Don't Salt the Walks.

An exchange says: People who throw salt on pavements covered with snow or ice which the salt is intended to remove have aroused the ire of many pedestrians during the last few days. The salt makes the snow stick to the shoes and soaks so thoroughly into the leather that it spoils the footwear. A physician said that the soaking of salt into shoe soles of pedestrians was no doubt the causes of numerous cases of pneumonia and bronchitis, for once the leather is saturated by the stuff the shoes remain damp the entire winter.

In Bed Four Weeks With La Grippe.

We have received the following letter from Mr. Roy Kemp, of Angola, Ind. "I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and I tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and now I use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes. C. M. Parrish.

—Don't be imposed upon by taking substitutes offered for Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

—John Halderman died at his home at Wallace Run, Centre Co., Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His age was 83 years. He was a member of Co. B. 148th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry and served through the war. He was the father of eight children, who survive him. Interment was made Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock in Houserville church yard. Rev. David Davis officiated.

To Compel Supervisors to Make Roads.

State Highway Commissioner Hunter will make an effort at the coming session of the Legislature to secure the passage of a bill amending the road law of 1903, so as to make it obligatory on the part of supervisors to give their approval when a majority of the property owners along a proposed road have petitioned for the improvement. Under the present law the supervisors of a township can use their own judgment in approving an application for a stretch of good road, and unless they do so the road cannot be constructed. Governor Pennypacker is said to favor the change, and it is to be expected the bill will be among the first to be passed and signed by the Governor.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson, of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Marriage Licenses.

An examination of the marriage license docket in the office of Register A. G. Archey shows that during the year 1904 there was granted only 269 marriage licenses, while in 1903 the total was 360 and in 1902 the number granted was 374. The number in 1904 was even away below the average, for in the nineteen years the marriage license law has been in effect, from October 9, 1885, when the first license was granted until October 9, 1904, a total of about 6,460 licenses have been granted, or an average of 340 per year.

Boys Life Saved from Membranous Croup.

C. W. Lynch, a prominent citizen of Winchester, Ind., writes, "My little boy had a severe attack of membranous croup, and only got relief after taking Foley's Honey and Tar. He got relief after one dose and I feel that it saved the life of my boy." Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

EXCITING RUN ON A BANK

This Occurred in New York on Wednesday.

SEVERAL WERE INJURED

Five Thousand Persons Crowded About the Bank and Became Insistent and Disorderly.

THERE WERE NUMEROUS SENSATIONS.

New York, January 11.—Three policemen and two Hebrew women were injured in a run on the State bank in Grand street, in the heart of the business section of the East Side, yesterday. The run was attended by some sensational incidents. The 5,000 persons crowded about the bank became so insistent that they broke down an iron railing around a light well in front of the building, and it was only by desperate clubbing on the part of the police that the excited and unruly mob was prevented from forcing many of its number into the well. The policemen and women were hurt at that point. The emergency police detail of the Delancey street station were finally called out and policemen were stationed at intervals of five or six feet for two blocks either side of the bank.

The cause of the run was as extraordinary as the frenzied character of the run itself. Yesterday there was a rush of depositors to get their money into the bank in time to begin to draw interest at once, and the long line of waiting depositors convinced the excitable Hebrews that something was wrong with the institution. Five hundred persons waited in front of the building all Tuesday night and their number quietly swelled to 5,000 when the bank opened yesterday, though not all of that number were depositors. The bank, which has deposits of $10.500,000 and a cash reserve of $4,000,000, and which, Cashier A. I. Vorhis said, earned 244 per cent. profits last year, sent down street for money early today, and $450,000 was brought by the wagonload largely in specie. At the sight of money those waiting became only the more impatient to get at it. The bank officials paid depositors off as fast as the operation could be conducted. In all the bank paid out Tuesday $55,000 and received in deposits $440,000.

Remarkable scenes attended the paying off within the bank. The officers paid off in two-thirds specie and one-third bills and some of the depositors were fairly overwhelmed by the amount of currency thrust upon them when they passed in their books. Immediately upon getting their money into their hands and becoming convinced that the bank was able to pay them, the frantic. Hebrews became equally anxious to get their money into the bank again and several of them created scenes when the officers refused to accept it. The depositors were paid in specie to prevent a re-pepoeit, as this was the sixth run the bank has experienced from equally trivial causes.

One of the aged depositors received sixty pounds of silver and staggered under the load when he carried it away. Women swept their accumulated savings into shawls, aprons or outer skirts held in the orm of aprons and got through the crowd as best they could.

Payment of depositors was made up to 6 o'clock last night. Officers of the bank declare It is absolutely sound and can secure $4,000,000 at an hour's notice. It received many offers of help yesterday and declined most of them.

Of the previous runs on this bank once was started by a fire, another by a fight, a third by a rumor in the Bryan campaign that silver dollars were to be cut in half, a fourth by the Spanish-American war, and a fifth by the failure of a bank in Nebraska.

Faithful Hens.

In these piping times of zero weather when the price of eggs is away above par it makes the economical housewife a bit nervous to hear of such industry on the part of hens as the following: Mrs. C. Anderson, of Olive avenue, DuBois, Pa., kept careful tab on the product of 18 hens that she owns, and found that from January 1, 1904, to December 1st of the same year, they had laid 137 dozen or 1,615 eggs. At the current market price these would bring in the neighborhood of $40. Not a bad showing for 18 of the feathered bipeds.

Carl June Williams.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Williams, of Martha, has been greatly afflicted by the death, on Jan. 10, 1905, of their infant daughter, Carl June, who passed to be with Jesus at the early age of six months and 9 days. The little child is survived by a sister and brother in addition to its parents. Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon by pastors J. B. Durkee, of Port Matilda, and A. C. Lathrop, of Millesburg. Interment was made in Brown's cemetery.

QUEER HOTEL MAN.

Has been in the Business for Fifty One Years.

Peter Meitzler, proprietor of the Riverside Hotel at Lock Haven, the other evening entertained his friends at a banquet in commemoration of his fifty-first year as a hotel man. It is doubtful if there is another person in the state that has been in the hotel business for that length of time, and there surely is none who has had as varied an experience in catering to the wants of the public.

Mr. Meitzler has been the proprietor of the Riverside Hotel for a great many years, as long as the writer can remember, and while it has always been possible for the weary traveler to get what he wanted to eat and drink there, it was not always the case that the place had a liquor license. It is said that several years ago, at the annual license court, Mr. Meitzler was refused a license for his hotel. He then opened a bar room in the cellar of the place where those who wanted to imbibe were led through narrow stair ways and dark halls before a long counter that answered the purpose of a bar. Here the business was conducted without a great deal of regard for the day of the week and with no license from the court at all. The place was orderly enough and only persons who were "all right" were allowed to make the descent to the lower floor. He conducted his hotel in this manner for a year and was not molested. Everybody seemed to think that what Pete Meitzler did was all right, and he was one of the "best fellows" it would be possible to meet in a year's travel.

At the following license court Peter was not an applcant for license, but conducted his hotel along the lines of the previous year and no person seemed to care much whether he got a license or not. He had a large three story hotel without a great deal to bother him, and while he was located within a few feet of the court house, he was allowed to proceed in his own peculiar way of conducting a hotel.

Finally, however, his friends insisted that he should apply for a license and he did. License was granted but the time for lifting them came and went and the Riverside Hotel license remained in the hands of the county authorities. Mr Meitzler explained that business was too quiet and he could not afford to lift the license, but kept right on selling from the basement. It is said that he refused to lift the license during the entire year.

Of recent years, however, the hotel has been conducted in much the same manner as other places and Mr. Meitzler is noted far and wide as being the prince of entertainers and has hundreds of friends who would have been pleased to have been with him on the occasion of his fifty first year in the hotel business.—DuBois Journal.

A Sensational Meeting

is expected at Harrisburg, when the Pennsylvania Live Stock Breeders' Association convenes on Jan. 25-26. The State Fair bill will be presented and discussed, and the best program ever presented to Pennsylvania live stock breeders will be carried out. The meeting will immediately follow that of the State Board of Agriculture, and parties arriving at Harrisburg on morning of 25th can take in a part of that meeting and also the poultry show. An attractive feature of the meeting will be the photograph exhibit of stock and farm buildings, etc., owned by members and visitors. All are requested to participate in it. The speakers include Hon. A. J. Lovejoy, of Illinois (Swine) Prof. E. B. Voorhees, of New Jersey (Crops); J. C. Duncan, of New York (Sheep); and Prof. Thos. F. Hunt, of Cornell, and Dr. Geo. M. Rommel, of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, who will discuss draft and light horses respectively. Special rates on railroads Apply to Hon. B. Critchfield, Sec'y of Agr., Harrisburg, Pa., for card orders entitling you to excursion rates, or to the Secretary, as below. Headquarters: Board of Trade Rooms, Harrisburg. A bureau of information there will direct parties to good accommodations. For program of meeting address E. S. Bayard, Sec'y. East End, Pittsburg. Pa.

—What a splendid type of tireless activity is the sun as the psalmist describes it issuing like "a bridegroom from his chamber and rejoicing like a strong man to run a race." Every man ought to rise in the morning refreshed by slumber and renewed by rest, eager for the struggle of the day. But how rarely this is so. Most people rise still unrefreshed, and dreading the strain of the day's labors. The cause of this is deficient vitality and behind this lies a deficient supply of pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is nothing that will give a man strength and energy as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does this by increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. This nourishes the nerves, feeds the brain, builds up enfeebled organs, and gives that sense of strength and power which makes the struggle of life a joy. The "good feeling" which follows the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" is not due to stimulation as it contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant. It does not brace up the body, but builds it up into a condition of sound health.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.

It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs and disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of Old Knickerbocker New Year Customs.

When I was a girl, before New York had grown cosmopolitan, we used to look forward to New-Year's Day with a great deal of pleasant anticipation. The first foot over the threshold was watched for with some curiosity. Who of the outside world should be first to enter the home with the merry salutation. "A Happy New-Year!" We were always rather pleased if it happened to be a pretty child or a graceful girl who brought this greeting, although it way very apt to be instead the milkman, with his rosy face, bronzed and flushed by wind and weather, or the carrier of the newspaper, who brought an elaborate message in verse, for which he expected a gratuity. This message recapitulated everything that had occurred for twelve months at home and abroad, with gleams of humor interspersed, and with some prophecy or other of what the New-year might bring. Great was my pride when in my fifteenth year the carrier of our daily paper came to me and asked me to write the message for him. My classmates and I were much interested in looking over the files of the paper, so that no important event should be omitted. New York being originally a Dutch city, it kept for many years the beautiful traditions of Dutch hospitality. Therefore, it was obligatory on all households not in mourning to receive calls on New Year's Day. A table was sumptuously spread with refreshments, which included sandwiches, pickled oysters, salad, cold turkey, fruit-cake, lemonade, coffee, and if the people of the house were so inclined, wine and egg-nog, and every caller was invited and expected to partake of the feast. Only the ladies of the house were at home on New Year's Day, and for that one day no woman was seen on the street. Groups of men hurried to and fro, carriages filled with men whirled here and there, and by the time that evening came in many houses there were little informal dances and other festive gatherings, which did not break up until midnight. Ladies' Day followed on the second of January, when women called on one another, exchanged good wishes, and discussed the pleasure of the day before. It was a happy time while it lasted, but after a while, as the city grew large and distances were magnified, until, instead of a town, Manhattan became a great capital with all sorts and conditions of people, the custom of New Year's calls died a natural death.—January Woman's Home Companion.

Beech Creek Tonnage.

Despite the fact that strenuous efforts were made by the management of the Beech Creek railroad to increase during 1904 the abnormally large bituminous coal tonnage handled in 1903, which amounted to 7,533,916 tons, the output fell short about 78,000 tons in 1904 The total coal tonnage for that year was 7,486,052 tons. Owing to the industrial depression earlier in the year the road was behind in its coal tonnage over 200,000 tons in June, as compared with the same months of 1903. Efforts were then put forth to bring the year's production up to that of 1903, and would probably have been successful but for the fact that by the breaking down of the Mahanoy Plane and from other causes the Reading was unable to get the desired number of empty cars into the Beech Creek Territory. The coal tonnage of this region in 1902 was 6,706,371 tons; in 1903, 7,563,916 tons, in 1904, 7,486,052 tons. The officials of the road consequently expect the 1905 tonnage to aggregate 8,000,000 tons.

Episcopal Vestrymen Entertained.

Mr. Daniel Garman and his son Mr. Edwin Garman entertained the vestry of St. John's Parish at a sumptuous dinner at their residence corner of High and Spring street Wednesday evening Jan. 11th.

All the nine members of the Vestry was present, including the Rector and additional friends

It was remarked that the host had been a Vestryman for 41 years and was also represented on that body by his son. One other Vestryman Mr. W. W. Montgomery has been a Vestryman for even a longer period having been Secretary of the Vestry for over 40 years and is represented by a son as well.

The part this parish has in the new Diocese was commented on. The Senior Warden Col. Reynolds, being a member and elected Secy of the Board of Managers, and Dr. Harris the only delegate in the Primary Convention, who was also present 33 years ago when the old Diocese was founded. It was a most delightful occasion all were heartily grateful to their hosts.

CURE FOR THE SMALLPOX.

Remedy Used for Sixty Years Never Known to Fail.

The Sisters in charge of St. Joseph's Female Orphan Asylum at Seventh and Spruce streets are in receipt of many letters daily from persons who seek information concerning the preparation which is believed by the Sisters to be a preventive against smallpox and all other contagious diseases. A few physicians are among the inquirers, a small proportion of these having decided to try the medicine.

"These drugs have been in use by us for sixty years," said one of the Sisters yesterday. "In all that time we have not had one case of smallpox in our institution. The prescription was obtained by Mother Gongaza more than sixty years ago from a minister in Germantown. He got it from a doctor in Paris, who had used it with great success during an epidemic of smallpox there.

A SIMPLE PRESCRIPTION.

"The prescription is one grain solid extract digitalis, one grain sulphate of zinc, one-half teaspoonful of sugar, four ounces of water. Dissolve the digitalis and the zinc separately, then compound the prescription.

"It is of most importance that the solid extract of digitalis be used. Some druggists say there is no such thing, and use the liquid preparation. This is valueless. It does not produce the same results.

"The dose is one teaspoonful every hour for twelve consecutive hours for an adult. For an infant, ten drops for the same length of time, and for children under 10 years one half teaspoonful hourly for twelve hours.

CURED IN ONE NIGHT.

"We usually repeat this treatment once a month when smallpox is epidemic. It is the best medicine, we think, in cases of smallpox. The face may be bathed with it, thus preventing scars. I know of one case in which a man sent for the medicine, as his wife had the smallpox. She took it all night, the eruption having almost disappeared in the morning.

"The digitalis kills the germs of contagious disease that may be in the system. The zinc purifies the blood. Some doctors object to the digitalis, because it acts on the heart. Of course, the preparation must be taken with care, as the medicines are powerful.

"Some people complain that it makes them sick. This is because their systems are not in good condition.

"We are not opposed to vaccination. You can vaccinate as often as you please. It will be useless, however, if you have taken this medicine. The vaccination will not 'take.'

"We have 130 children here now. When one is brought we give her the medicine promptly. Although they come from all over the city, we never had a contagious disease within our doors."—Philadelphia North American:

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer.

Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of the New-York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them asiyet. Yours very truly,

CHARLES S. BODMAN.

Through a special agreement with THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE FARMER we will send it with the Republican both papers, one year, for $1.00. Send your name and address to the Republican, Bellefonte, Pa.

Coughs, Colds and Constipation.

Few people realize when taking cough medicines other than Foley's Honey and Tar, that they contain opiates which are constipating besides being unsafe, particularly for children. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, is safe and sure and will not constipate, For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

The evening was pleasantly spent in various games and fine music was rendered by Misses Twitmire, Riddle, Wian, Harrison and Gebret. At a late hour the party left for their homes.

Daniel Dorman Dead

Daniel Dorman, a very highly esteemed citizen of near Hublersburg, died very suddenly of Brights disease, on Sunday evening Jan, 8. He is survived by a wife and the following children: Mrs. George Kaup of Bellefonte, Rebecca, of Lock Haven, Mrs. Wesley Mayes of Clintondale, Mrs. Andrew Guiser of Madisonburg, Wm. P., of Avis, Newton, of Jersey Shore, Mrs. Adam Yocum of Hublersburg, and Harry at home. Three brothers and one sister also survive him. He was a member of the Lutheran church, a kind and indulgent father, upright in all his dealings, and ever ready to do his fellowmen a favor. Interment in Snydertown cemetery. He was aged 74 years.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Goods.

A. H. Thurnes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—H. Laird Curtin entertained a small party at the Nittany Country Club Wednesday evening.

—The County Auditors are busily at work on the annual statement of Centre County's finances.

—J. C. Harper, the insurance man, was confined to his home last week by an attack of eczema.

—Mr. and Mrs. David J. Kelly are rejoicing over the arrival of a little baby girl at their home on Tuesday.

—Sheriff Taylor has thirteen regular boarders on his register. It is an unlucky number but the Sheriff can't help himself.

—The Lehigh Valley mines at Snow Shoe are running full time and have all the work they can do. This is good news to the people of Snow Shoe.

—Dr. F. C Smith, professor of modern languages at the Academy, will form classes in Spanish and Italian for any in Bellefonte who wish to pursue these studies.

—States on the lookout for Senators should try to find "settled" men for the places. Romantic youths like Platt, Depew, Clark of Montana and Smoot are too much occupied with matrimonial affairs. Boys will be boys.

—Mrs. John H. Holziuger died at Harrisburg on Saturday aged 71 years. She was a sister of John Wagner, of North Spring street and he is now the last surviving member of a large family of brothers and sisters.

—Alone and without food on a bleak wind swept island in the Susquehanna river, near Herndon, Mr. Erdman, son of Presiding Elder Erd man of the Evangelical church, was a prisoner for over 24 hours owing to the floating ice rendering it impossible for any one to go to his rescue.

—Dorsey Hunter had a bit of excitement at the Index store Tuesday evening Jan. 10. There was a decided odor, of burning wood and smoke in his room. Every section of the store was examined and the building closely watched but nothing developed. The cause of it is still unknown.

—The snail's sense of smell has been located in the horns by some observers, but authorities quite as good have regarded this conclusion as incorrect. M. Young, who has been making experiments to settle the matter, now claims to have proven that the snail's nose is distributed over the entire body.

—The last we heard of May Irwin, the actress, she was about to marry David B. Hill. Now report says she has come forward with an offer of bail for Nan Patterson, who is accused of the murder of Caesar Young. May has learned a thing or two about advertising in her all too brief career.

—Great difficulty is experienced at the iron furnaces in unloading lake ore from the cars. When it is shipped there is much moisture in it and this cold weather it freezes in a solid block clinging to the sides and bottom of the cars. Pick and shovel are of little service and dynamite must be used entirely, which very frequently shatters the cars and causes more damage than the ore is worth. Owing to the frozen ore there are a great many cars lying on the sidings filled with ore that cannot be unloaded, and that means additional charges for holding these cars.

—The Ithaca Conservatory of Music Concert Co., will give one of their delightful concerts in the Lutheran church on Monday evening Jan. 30th. It will be under the auspices of the Luther League. In speaking of this attraction the Camden, (N. J) Courier says: Despite the inclement weather an audience of eleven hundred greeted the Ithaca Conservatory Co., last evening. The selections showed excellent taste and were rendered in a manner to bring forth enthusiastic and persistent applause, impelling at times three encores. –Camden (N. J) Courier.

—Dr. Geo. G. Groff, officer of the State Board of Health, paid a visit to Milesburg and Roland Monday, Jan. 2, to inspect the smallpox conditions in those places. Upon his return he reported two cases at Milesburg and eight at Roland. At the latter place eleven houses are quarantined as they were in danger of contracting the disease from mingling with persons who were afflicted with this ailment. All cases are of a mild type and no serious results are apprehended; the local board of health has enforced rigid rules for handling all the cases. Nearly everybody in that community has been vaccinated, and no passenger trains stop at the station. Dr. Groff insisted that there was no "anomalous" smallpox about these cases and everybody should use every possible precaution to prevent its spread.

—A new steel ceiling is being placed in Montgomery & Co's clothing store.

—The Williamsport Arch-deaconry will meet in Williamsport Monday and Tuesday of next week. Bishop Talbot will be present.

—Centre county will be entitled to four delegates in the next Democratic state convention. Last year they had but two.

—The Rev. Mr. Sawyer, rector of the church in Carbondale, Pa., has received the unanimous call to the rectorship of St. Stephens church, Harrisburg.

—'Tisn't safe to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen.

—The elderly Mr. Beckwith who was so badly cheated by Mrs. Chadwick no doubt feels equipped to add a stanza to Kiplings poem, "I learned about women from her."

—The Ithaca Conservatory of Music Concert Co., will appear in the Lutheran church, on Monday evening January 30th. They give a delightful musical entertainment.

—Announcement has recently been made of the engagement of Mr. J. Thomas Mitchell. son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mitchell, of this place, and Miss Bario, of Boston.

—Wm. R. Gainfort, N. Spring St., supervisor on the Central R. R. of Pa., was the prize winner last week in a Ritman short hand competition open to stenographers all over the world.

—A sled load from Boalsburg spent Monday evening at the home of Samuel Ryan as the guests of Mr. Ryan and family. A splendid supper was served and all had a delightful time.

—L. B. Hindman, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has rented the Nichols residence on East Curtin street and will occupy it after the 1st of March. He has been boarding during the winter.

—Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 30th and 31st a farmers institute will be held at Hublersburg, Pa., under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture. The program will be published later.

—The engagement of Robert T. Morris and Miss Alva Wright has been announced in Columbia, S. C,. Miss Wright is a typical southern girl, having lived in Columbia all her life.

—Ross Bryan, a son of S. W. Bryan, of North Spring street, who has been braking on the Pennsylvania railroad, has been promoted to the position of fireman between Altoona and Harrisburg.

—The contract for delivering the mail from the Pennsylvania station to the Bellefonte Post Office has been awarded to Thompson & Bartley, the liverymen. This work was formerly done by William Dawson Jr.

—A. S. Stover, of Aaronsburg, has been appointed mercantile appraiser of Centre county for the year 1905. This appointment comes to a deserving citizen of Haines township and this paper congratulates Mr. Stover on his appointment.

—The remains of Mamie Swanger, who died in West Virginia several months ago were taken to Millheim Wednesday of last week and interred in the Union cemetery at that place. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Swanger.

—Mrs. Evan Blanchard and her daughters, the Misses Blanchard, gave a dinner party at their residence on West Linn street Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker and Mr. and Mrs. Noah H. Swayne II.

—Miss Helen Cannon, daughter of Speaker Cannon, who is a musician, linguist and wit can also, it is said, hold up her end of a stiff game of poker and show a few signs of defective circulation in her pedal extremities as her distinguished father.

—Miss Mona Struble, of this place, was taken to a Philadelphia hospital Tuesday morning, suffering from an affection of the jaw. It is a similar complaint to that from which Miss Alters, of East Bishop street, suffered. Part of her jaw bone, it is said, will have to be removed.

—Col. Watterson says Paris is not as gay as it once was. There is a story of a woman who visited Paris in her youth and after a period of thirty years went there once more. Like Col. Watterson she experienced a disappointment. "The men" said she dejectedly "don't follow one nowadays."

—The retiring grand jury of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, with the exception of two members concurred in a resolution favoring the whipping post for wife beaters, and petty larcency offenders. They also introduced a clause urging the obligation of medical examination for persons about to marry. These are good reforms with which to begin a New Year.

—An investigation in the asylums of the United States, Canada and England, with a total of 16,512 patients, has shown Hobart Langdon only 703 insane people with light hair, and only 66 with red or auburn hair. That is, 96 per cent. of the insane are brunetts, with brown or black hair. Among the blonde insane, however, the percentage of incurables is much the greater—a fact, like that first stated, for which no explanation appears.

—Your council built a sewerage,
A great nuisance to amend,
Must have got it upside down,
Now it breathes at the other end.
BOB WALLIS.

—Willie had a pistol toy
he called it number seven,
When he the trigger pulled his sister went to Heaven.

—If New Years day is to be regarded as a festival it should be changed to some date when the bills do not come in.

—The residence of Win Love on South Allegheny street was fumigated Wednesday. Mr. Love had a genuine case of small pox but is now entirely cured.

—Rev. Edward H. Eckel, of Christ Church, Williamsport, has been called to the rectorship of Christ church, St Joseph, Mo.

—The residence and store of Jas. A. Stine were thoroughly fumigated Tuesday and Mr. and Mrs. Stine and their son, Ellis have entirely recovered from their attack of small pox.

—The Fairview public school building about a mile and a half north of Howard was burned to the ground on Tuesday morning, the fire starting in the attic from a defective flue. It was a single room building with Winfield Thompson as instructor.

—The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Arch-deaconry of Williamsport will meet in Trinity church, Williamsport, Wednesday of next week. Delegates from Bellefonte are expected to be present; among whom are Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, President, and Mrs. Harry Valentine, secretary of St. John's Branch of this place.

—The electoral college to compute the vote cast for president in Pennsylvania last November, met in the senate chamber at Harrisburg at noon Tuesday for that purpose. Besides counting the vote and balloting for president and vice president, the college appointed a messenger to convey the certificate to Washington, to be presented to the secretary of the senate.

—Among the men mentioned for the new Bishopric of Harrisburg are the Rev. Dr. Farber, rector at Lockport, N. Y; the Rev. Dr. Darlington, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. Mr. Matthew, of Cincinnati, son of Judge Matthew, of that city; and more particularly the Rev. Frederick F. Reese, rector of Christ Church, Nashville, Tenn., where he happens to be the successor of Dr. Manning, vicar of St. Agnes parish, New York who was elected Bishop at the last convention.

—A new invention for insuring dry seats on electric cars in wet weather has been made in Detroit. As explained by the inventor, the new arrangement is a simple one, and can be fitted to any style of garden, tramway or ship's deck seat. It is practically a wooden covering for the seats can be lifted in wet weather, the ordinary movement of the back rest of the seat locking it in position. When raised, it forms a shelter for the back of the passenger. In dry weather the cover forms the ordinary seat.

—During a trip to Bellefonte we dropped into the handsome new offices of our friend, W. Harrison Walker, Esq., and found him at his desk busy as usual. We have no doubt but that all business entrusted to him will receive his personal, prompt and careful attention. His reputation as an attorney and his courteous manner warrants the respect and confidence of the public. It is always a pleasure to call on such sociable and pleasant gentlemen as Mr. Walker.—Philipsburg Journal.

—A contract has been closed by the Pennsylvania railroad with a firm in Ohio for transporting thirty train loads of sewer pipe to be used in the constructing of the Panama canal. This is one of the largest freight contracts made thus far in the new year and is important in several respects. The business will be handled in St. Louis over the Pennsylvania railroad, then over the Illinois Central to New Orleans, where they will be taken by water to Colon. There will be 1,200 car loads of sewer pipe, and will represent million dollars. Each train will be limited to forty cars.

—That the Guatemalan ant or "kelep" will kill the boll-weevil without damaging the cotton-plant or other vegetation in any way, and that its habits and temperament are such as to make it readily capable of domestication, transportation and colnization in Texas, have now been amply demonstrated. The most important problems, however, are yet unsolved. It remains to be determined whether the ant can survive the winter climate of Texas, and whether it can be obtained of propagated in sufficient numbers to serve the practical purpose for which it was introduced.

—P. W. Burket is proprietor of the Eagle hotel at Claysburg. Friday morning he arose before daylight and in attempting to light the lamp discovered there was no oil in it. He picked up the oil can and, not noticing that a small flame was still flickering in the lamp began to refill it. Instantly the lamp exploded, throwing the burning fluid over him. His clothing quickly ignited and in an instant he was wrapped in flames. His screams brought help and by wrapping a blanket around him the flames were smothered out. Burket was severely burned about the hands and body.

Capital Building Commission Filed its Second Report.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—The Capitol Building commission, filed its second report Monday evening with the legislature, The commission reports that over five per cent, of the work contracted for has been completed and recommends legislation making provision for turning the building over to the state when completed in January, 1906.

The Moral paintings by Edwin A. Abbey and Miss Violet Oakley and the sculpture work by George Gray Barnard, is progressing and will shortly be finished. Of the $4,000,000 appropriated, $2,700,000 has been expended and the balance un-expended will be paid out during the present year.

Worthy to Receive Pension.

A certain charitable organization in the city had a request the other day from a young Italian threatened with consumption who wanted help to get back to Italy in the hope of saving his life. An agent was sent to investigate, and as usual, asked the young man's mother for a list of the members of the family. The blank furnished for this formality have nine spaces left for children. The agent filled up one blank and still the list went on. She filled two blanks without a word, the list of children stopping at eighteen. When she turned in her report it embraced the following official recommendation: "That the boy be sent to Italy, and that the mother be recommended to President Roosevelt for a pension.

A Monument to Pollock,

It is suggested in Milton that a monument be erected by the state in commemoration of James Pollock, as one of the governors of Pennsylvania, the location of it to be, of course, in that town. The propriety of it is predicated upon the claim that monuments have been erected in memory of other governors, who were his predecessors as well as successors in the gubernatorial office. There is plausibility in such a claim, but it has a more substantial basis than that. It would be a just tribute to one of the best governors this state ever had.

James Pollock was one of the most distinguished—probably the most distinguished personage that Northumberland county ever produced. A brilliant lawyer, an able and just judge, a distinguished member of congress and a governor who reflects additional honor upon that exalted station.

The New States.

The Senate Committee on Territories has agreed to a favorable report on the house bill providing for admission of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one state, and Arizona and New Mexico as another, which should assure the early passage of the measure. The proposed new state of Oklahoma will have about 1,200,000 white inhabitants, putting it in advance of Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nevada, nine other states. It will be entitled to five members of the house and will in that respect make a very respectable showing. Arizona and New Mexico will be allowed two members of the house, and they have not the requisite population to be entitled to that number. There will be reason for gratification in dropping the inappropriate designation of "New Mexico." Arizona is a much better name for a State and will also be appropriate.

Sings in Four Languages.

Alice Kaft Benson, who is a young soprano, is meeting with great success as goldenrod, the straight soprano part in Nixon & Zimmerman's comedy opera, "Miss Bob White," which will be seen here soon. Her voice is a colorature soprano of great sweetness, and highly cultivated. She has a range to E in alto.

Miss Benson is a musician as well as a singer. Before entering the opera field she had an extensive experience in oratorio and concert work. Besides her own language she speaks French, German and Italian, and sings with equal ease in either.

—The 37th annual state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet at Johnstown February 16-19. Several members of the local Y. M. C. A. will attend the convention.
